

Owl's Roost Outfitters

Experience the pristine wildness of northern New England's waterways with Rick Estes, a retired game warden who has over 40 years experience in the backwoods of New Hampshire and Maine. Owl's Roost Outfitters provides full or half-day fishing trips where big fish are found without the fancy gear, just rod and reel. Rick's passion is certainly fly fishing and that is what he would prefer to do, but if you want to try some warm water fishing with spinning gear that can be accommodated.

Join Rick, a native New Englander, on New Hampshire's lakes, like Winnepesaukee and Squam, in his 20-foot canvas/wood canoe to cast your line for landlocked salmon and large rainbow trout. Or, take on big brawny rivers, like the Androscoggin or Kennebec, in his Hyde drift boat and hook brook, rainbow, brown trout and landlock salmon, sometimes all in the same day. Owl's Roost Outfitters also provides you with opportunities to hike to a backcountry pond to catch trout from a float tube, or canoe a river or pond being paddled or poled by your guide.

Instruction

Get instruction on how to tie flies, or improve your technique, with master fly tiers. Learn how to orient yourself in the outdoors with wilderness navigation classes.

Whatever adventure you choose, you are guaranteed excellent service from a New Hampshire Licensed Fishing Guide and Maine Registered Guide who has spent a lifetime learning the ways of the woods and waters of northern New England. Owl's Roost is also a Special use permit holder on the White Mountain National Forest, which allows us to guide on the National Forest.
